

I-5 Vista Point: Encinitas, CA

The Interstate 5 (I-5) Vista Point is a scenic overlook of the San Elijo Lagoon Ecological Reserve in Encinitas, California, adjacent to southbound I-5. The jellyfish-shaped overlook ties to new bike paths that parallel the highway from Birmingham Drive to Manchester Avenue and is built as a new feature of the North Coast Corridor Program. The architectural design incorporates features that are an intentional part of a comprehensive, broad set of design guidelines for the North Coast Corridor. This enhancement of the pre-existing I-5 Vista Point overlook was completed in June 2022.
